"Good morning, it's Monday, September the fourth." Bells ring. Lockers slam. Another year. 180 days, six periods a day. What is 1972-1973? Led Zeppelin, Chicago, Carly Simon, Don McClean, Deliverance, Caberet, Fiddler on the Roof, jeans, flannel shirts, long hair, cuffed baggy pants, wide ties, bow ties, the shag, the natural look, conformity, the individual, mom, apple pie, homework, and America. Everyone did their thing on the weekends of the Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer of '72-'73.

ADMINISTRATION

A new principal . . . an old school . . . new ideas . . . some step up to the administrative staff, others are "old timers." Conflicts between the students and the administration revolve around established rules and the changing trend on school grounds. However, their main purpose is to attain a better education for the students. Meetings . . . memorandas . . . never enough time to finish a day's work . . . keeping the halls clear and the kids in class . . . THE EDISON WAY.

SECRETARIES

Usually thought of as behind the scenes people, secretaries are very much on the scene at Edison. Writing and signing passes, typing, computing miles of student lists and cards and pouring over the finance records, prove that these ladies are invaluable tools of the administration, who keep the school functioning.

SCHOOL SERVICES

School Services are an important part of Edison. The library staff tries to help students find necessary information. The school nurse does a healthy business, but one word of advice, don't get sick during school hours. The clinic is only allowed to despense band-aids, or a rest on a hard bed. The janitorial staff is perhaps the least applauded task force in the school.

The planetarium is a great place to visit. A job which few people would volunteer for, yet many have complaints about is the cafeteria staff. Let's face it, cafeteria food will never equal mom's or McDonalds but, it's nice to sit and eat your good-ole bag lunch in a clean atmosphere.

GUIDANCE

The guidance department encourages students to take relevant courses in pursuit of their future interests. From the student point of view, the guidance counselors try to enroll them in courses which they feel they do not need. ". . . you are college bound, aren't you?" PSAT'S, SAT'S, and ACT'S are another service provided, and guaranteed to give every student Excedrin headache number 923, after he had blackened in all the little blocks. Not all guidance offices are credited with aiding the student with anything beyond their education, however, for many students, they offer helpful counseling service for personal problems or needs.

FINE ARTS

Trying to instill culture into Edison isn't easy—but it can be done. A lot of hard work, worry and talent go into the Drama and the Jazz and Symphonic band performances. Photography and quality art work are displayed by the Art Department. Losing one's music, chipping away too much of a sculpture, hitting a flat note or having someone walk in on you while exposing a picture in the darkroom, are just a few of the problems that one has to put up with in pursuing one's talent.

ENGLISH

Thematic English is now an institution at Edison. Each nine weeks students make three selections in order of their preference from the choice sheets. While most of the student body favors the thematic units, all agree they can prove expensive. Especially when you loose your Cliff's Notes the day before the test.

"Remember, you only get out as much as you put in . . ." Occasionally, students run into teachers who like to lecture, but the trend now is, motivating the pupil to answer the questions he asks. According to the student, teachers don't really have anything to do when employing this method. True? Not True! Long hours are spent in planning these thematic units, as well as preparing tests. Although it takes the student one period to finish a test, it takes the teacher days to grade them. As any English teacher will tell you, reading the same question 150 times is not the most exciting life.

LANGUAGES

An increasing amount of attention is being given to the language department because languages are encouraged in college studies. Also, because more and more young people are traveling abroad in their leisure time. The A-L-M program is the basic format used in teaching, with emphasis placed on speaking, grammar and native customs.

PHYS ED

The thematic bug has spread to the P.E. department.

Guys and girls in gym classes? Why not? Not only does it add more variety to classes, but it gives students a better chance to select a sport that they are interested in. Besides major sports, weight-training, archery, volleyball, and use of the trampoline are included in the curriculum. P.E. teachers spend a good deal of time, effort and nerves instilling sound, sportsmanlike qualities into minds and hopefully shaping winning teams.

SOCIAL STUDIES

During one's four years at Edison, a great deal of emphasis is placed on History. Freshmen and Sophomores are grouped in a World History and Geography program. After a trial run last year, thematic units were established for Juniors and Seniors, consisting of political, social and economic history and U. S. government. In most classes, no matter what the concept, Current Events are stressed.

Students learn to beg, borrow or steal a newspaper to pass the course. Less use of text books and more use of up-to-date paperback books, movies and filmstrips are incorporated in class time. Many teachers form class discussion groups, instead of having the student work on an individual basis. If this satisfies the teacher as far as results are concerned, it also makes the students happy because they have time to catch up on the latest gossip and make plans for the weekend.

MATHEMATICS

Education is not just as simple as readin', writin', and 'rithmetic anymore. The Math Department is a good example of that. Basic math courses are Algebra and Geometry, but some prefer General Math to fulfill their graduation requirements. Other venturous souls continue into the higher math courses of Trigonometry and Functions. As with other subjects, there are rules to be learned and followed, except of course, in special cases. Therefore, much of a math teacher's time is spent at the board, going over frequent homework assignments. A few teachers choose to use the contract system—letting the pupil work at his own speed. Math students can easily be spotted by slide rules or tattered graph paper protruding from their books.

SCIENCE

Ever whiff a strange smell or hear a small explosion? Well if it's not the cafeteria, it could be from the Science wing. The courses offered by the Science department are all lab oriented and consist of Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics. The Science Department does it's bit for population control by disecting unlucky frogs and a monkey. The upper level courses offer something a bit more complicated.

BUSINESS

This is no longer a field just for girls who plan to become office workers, though steno blocks prepare students for jobs very much in demand. Typing, Shorthand, Business Law, Book and Record Keeping and Economics are designed for any student, because business is a major part of today's society. Common problems of these courses include loosing your typing eraser or running out of ink during dictation.

VOCATIONAL

For students and teachers who have not yet ventured into this wing, it's quite a worthwhile trip. Especially if you would like a new hair style, or have your car's transmission fixed. Big job opportunities are available in the vocational field, with good salaries and opportunities for advancement. Data Processing, Fashion Merchandising, Cosmotology, Bricklaying, Auto Repair, and Regrigeration draw not only Edison students, but students from area schools to make this one of Edison's largest departments.

HOME ECONOMICS

Every girl, whether she plans on catching a husband or being an old maid, should learn how to sew, cook, manage a budget, child care, etc. Guys, whether or not they plan to stay a bachelor for one week or 80 years after graduation, should know how to cook and sew on buttons. Here's where the Home Ec teachers take action, instructing students in fields they will use not only now, but later in life.

FRESHMEN

A whole new breed of people invaded the school in September—Freshmen. Fast to catch on to the ways of their peers, everyone wondered if they'd ever make it through this year and the next . . . and the next. But you did and the time goes faster each year. Soon it will be 1976—something to celebrate! Freshmen activities included a third place Homecoming Float, an Ice Skating party, participation in the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, and a dance in January.

SOPHOMORES

Though slipping easily into the same school routine as many classes before them have done, the Class of '75 was not to be unheard. The loudest cheers in the school won them the spirit stick three times during the year. Other class activities: a second place Homecoming float, soc hops, and an ice skating party. Sophomores—you're halfway through!

Sponsors: Mr. McCurdy, Miss Dopp.

SENIORS

1973 . . . the last year to get involved or to not get involved, constructing Pooh, the Homecoming hall and follies, of listening to morning announcements, owning a parking space, "Senior Privileges", getting out for lunch five minutes early, leaving at 2:15, the Candle Sale, retaking college boards to better scores, visits to the college room, filling out college applications, being measured for caps and gowns, ordering announcements, skipping a class or a day every now and then unofficially, the official "Senior Skip Day", parties, the Talent Show, the Prom, and—Graduation. For some it was a very long year, for others it was very short—for most, the hours in class passed slowest towards the end but Graduation flew by. None of us will forget that 1973 was our year.

PROM NIGHT '73

"Sunrise, Sunset" . . . Actually, this night was just beginning with the sun's setting. Hours of preparation go into one big night in which couples "paint the town." Some went in groups, others preferred to be alone and share the excitement of the night. The fine restaurants of Virginia and D. C. were popularized. Some even pulled up at the Crystal City Marriott in chauffeur driven limousines. Girls appeared with beautiful gowns and shining hair. Guys rocked out in rented tuxes and platform shoes. Florists had a booming business in corsages and buttonaires. Couples dances and chatted away the gala evening in a crowded room . . . the queen was announced . . . the band played on as the night slipped into morning. At one o'clock it was officially over but many went out for breakfast, caught forty winks of sleep, watched the sun rise, and headed toward the beach, or to work.

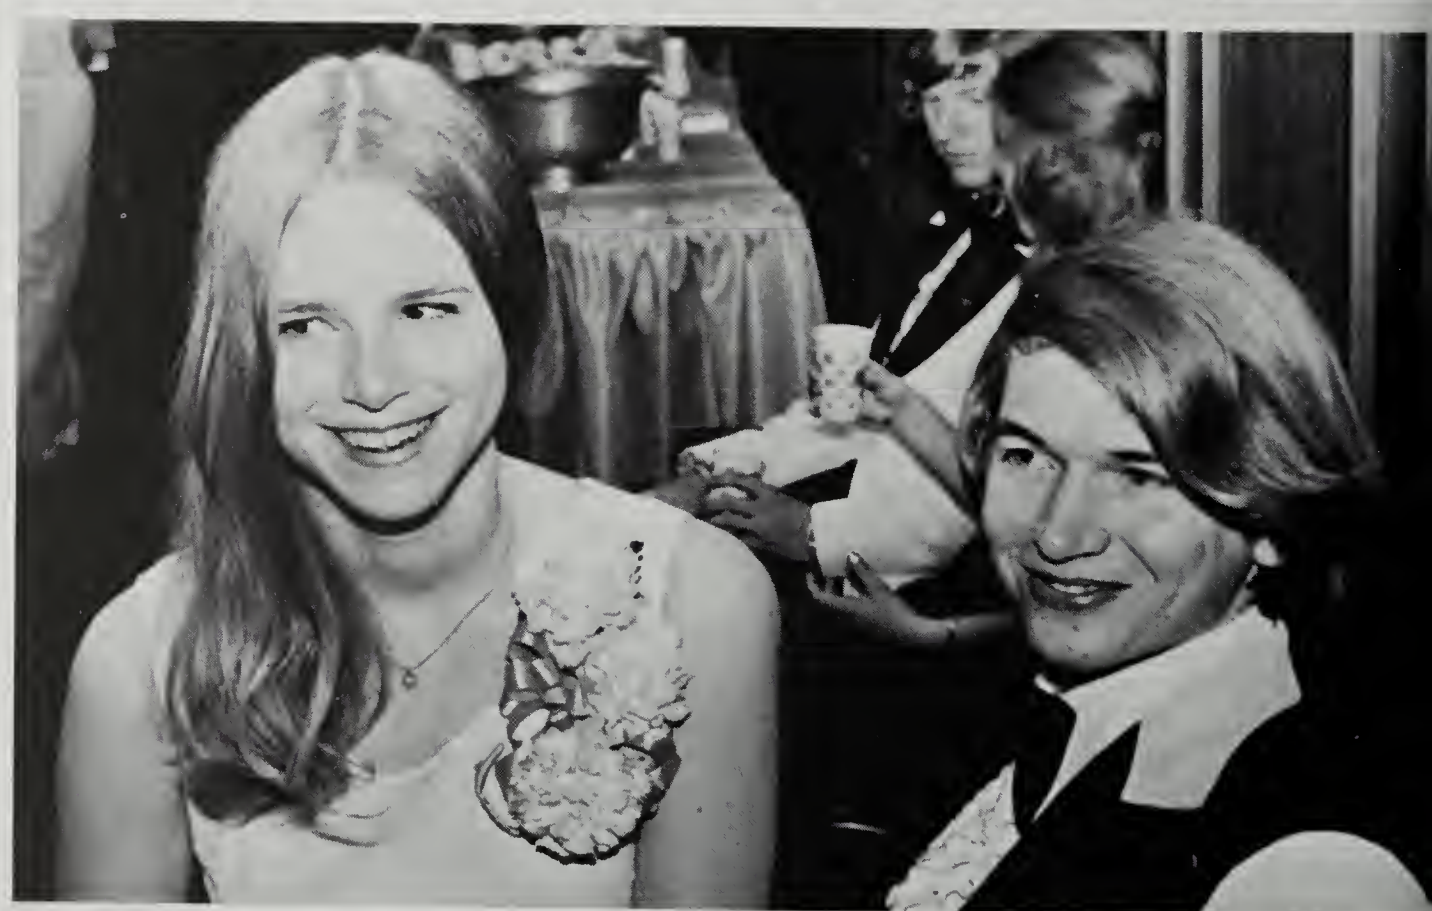
A radiant Jan Smith becomes the '73 Prom Queen.

The newly crowned queen and her escort share their dance.



BACCALAUREATE

"Be here at 7:00 p.m., Don't leave your house at five minutes 'til . . . Boys wear dark shoes, dark pants, ties, light shirts. Girls wear white dresses and white shoes—please don't wear clogs." First time to wear caps and gowns . . . a fast Processional. Then came the Invocation, given by Sue Kestner, who spoke of peace and happiness. Chris Austin gave a new twist to the Welcoming Speech rephrasing the old line, "don't look up a dead horse's tail." The Inspirational message was delivered by Reverend Father Paschal Balkan, OSCO, the Associate Pastor of St. Lawrence's Church. He was most candid in his beliefs and very frank in giving advice to the class. "Experience is the best teacher . . . if you don't remember anything else I say, remember these words from the Bible, " . . . in the evening of your life you will be judged on how you loved." This was followed by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Mr. Parker. Caroline Hatch took the text of the Benediction from Proverbs 30 which explains that man should not be stupid but learn from "the way of an eagle in the sky, the way of a serpent on a rock, the way of a ship on the high seas, and the way of a man with a maiden." The class formed the Recessional and Seniors were heard the whole week preceeding Graduation humming Pomp and Circumstance.

The Choir practices. Seniors talk with Mr. Parker.

CONVOCATION

"Be here at 8:30 a.m. . . . Remember there's a beat to the music . . . don't come down the aisles like you're on your way to a fire . . . " Computer cards are given out for the last time, "Don't lose your card—if you do, don't forget your number." Everyone is welcomed, the Pledge of Allegiance is said, the National Anthem is sung, the announcement of scholarships is made by Mr. Gianakaris and the Choir sings Both Sides Now and God Bless the Child. The presentation of awards goes as follows—Departmental Awards: Art to Cindy Amos, Band to Phil Chumley, Choral to Gail Gessert, Business Education to Georgine Rizor, Debate to Kathy Asente, Drama to Greg Goldsmith, English to Cindy Amos, Home Economics to Sandy Benarick, Language—French to Diane Erickson, Latin to David Warner, Spanish to Gary Padgett, Math to Robert Sample, Phys Ed to Diane Ostergren and Mike Peter, Science to John Anderson, Social Studies to Kathy Mann, Industrial Arts to Bob Redden, Vocational Education to Karl McGuinn; Jean Allred Award: Mrs. McClurg; Thomas A. Edison Awards: Attendance, Steve Burns, Steve Messinger, Diane Ostergren, Dave Warner; W. T. Robinson Scholarship to Kurt Pennington; Faculty Award to Gail Gessert; School Award to Debbie Davis. After the presentation, Seniors marched onto the field to practice Graduation. Reminders to pay any debts or be in danger of receiving a blank diploma are made and the Final Countdown begins.

Bob Redden and Greg Goldsmith accepting awards. Bottom: the solemn Seniors.

GRADUATION '73

Finally it came, along with grandparents, aunts, first and fifth cousins, the do's and don'ts, the announcements that many sent out at the last minute, tears, kisses and more kisses (for good luck, of course). "Be here at 7:00, start early, you know there's always a traffic jam . . . Take pictures before you leave home—after graduation you will march directly back into school to turn in your caps and gowns."

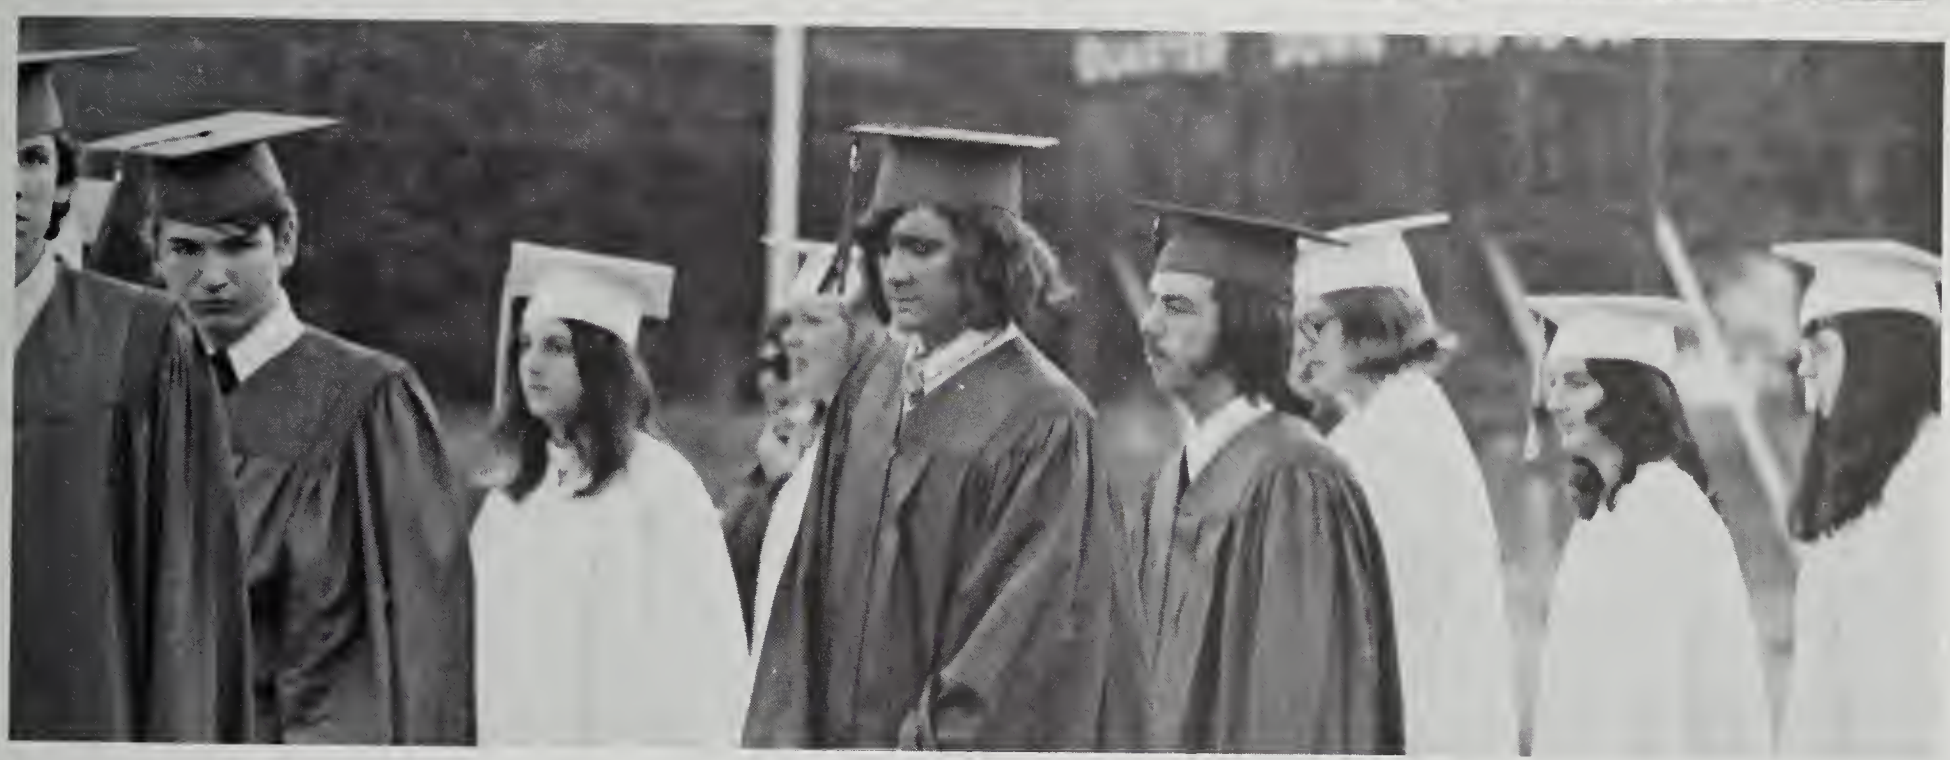
Bob Connolly spoke his last words as class president, gifts were presented to Mrs. Cirelli, Miss Kill, Mrs. McClurg, a round of applause for Mr. Parker, a class reunion in five years—mark your calendars.

Each graduate prayed that he wouldn't trip in front of the stadium full of people. Four years ended with a short walk across the platform.

A mob scene erupted in back of the school as everyone hunted family and friends. This resulted in a horrible traffic jam with all in a rush, but most of all, the Seniors impatient to get out.

After the formal ceremonies were over, the festivities began! For many, this would be the last chance to see each other.

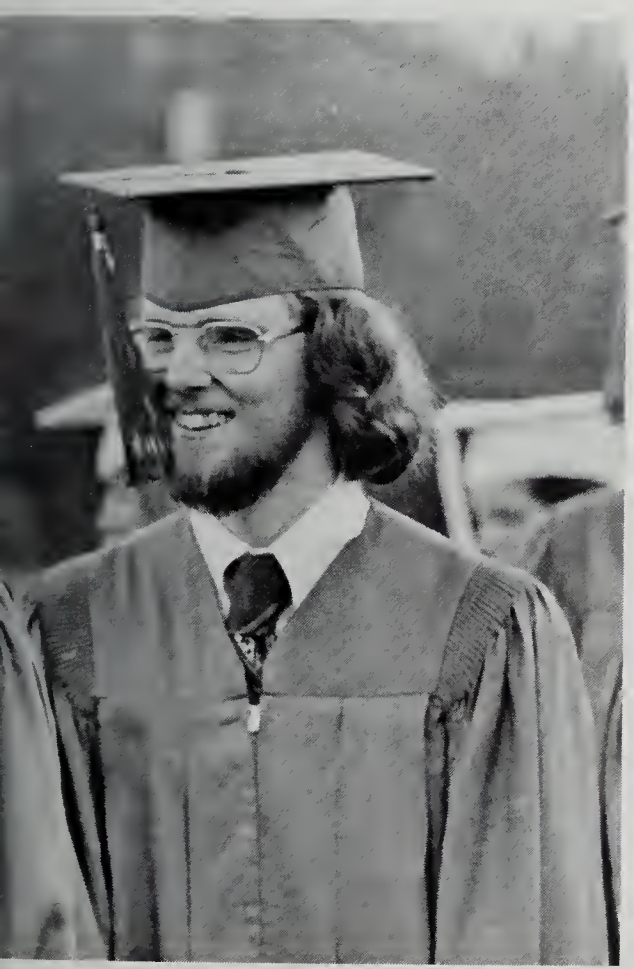
The graduates came home exhausted, eyes closed to the world, but never to forget GRADUATION '73.

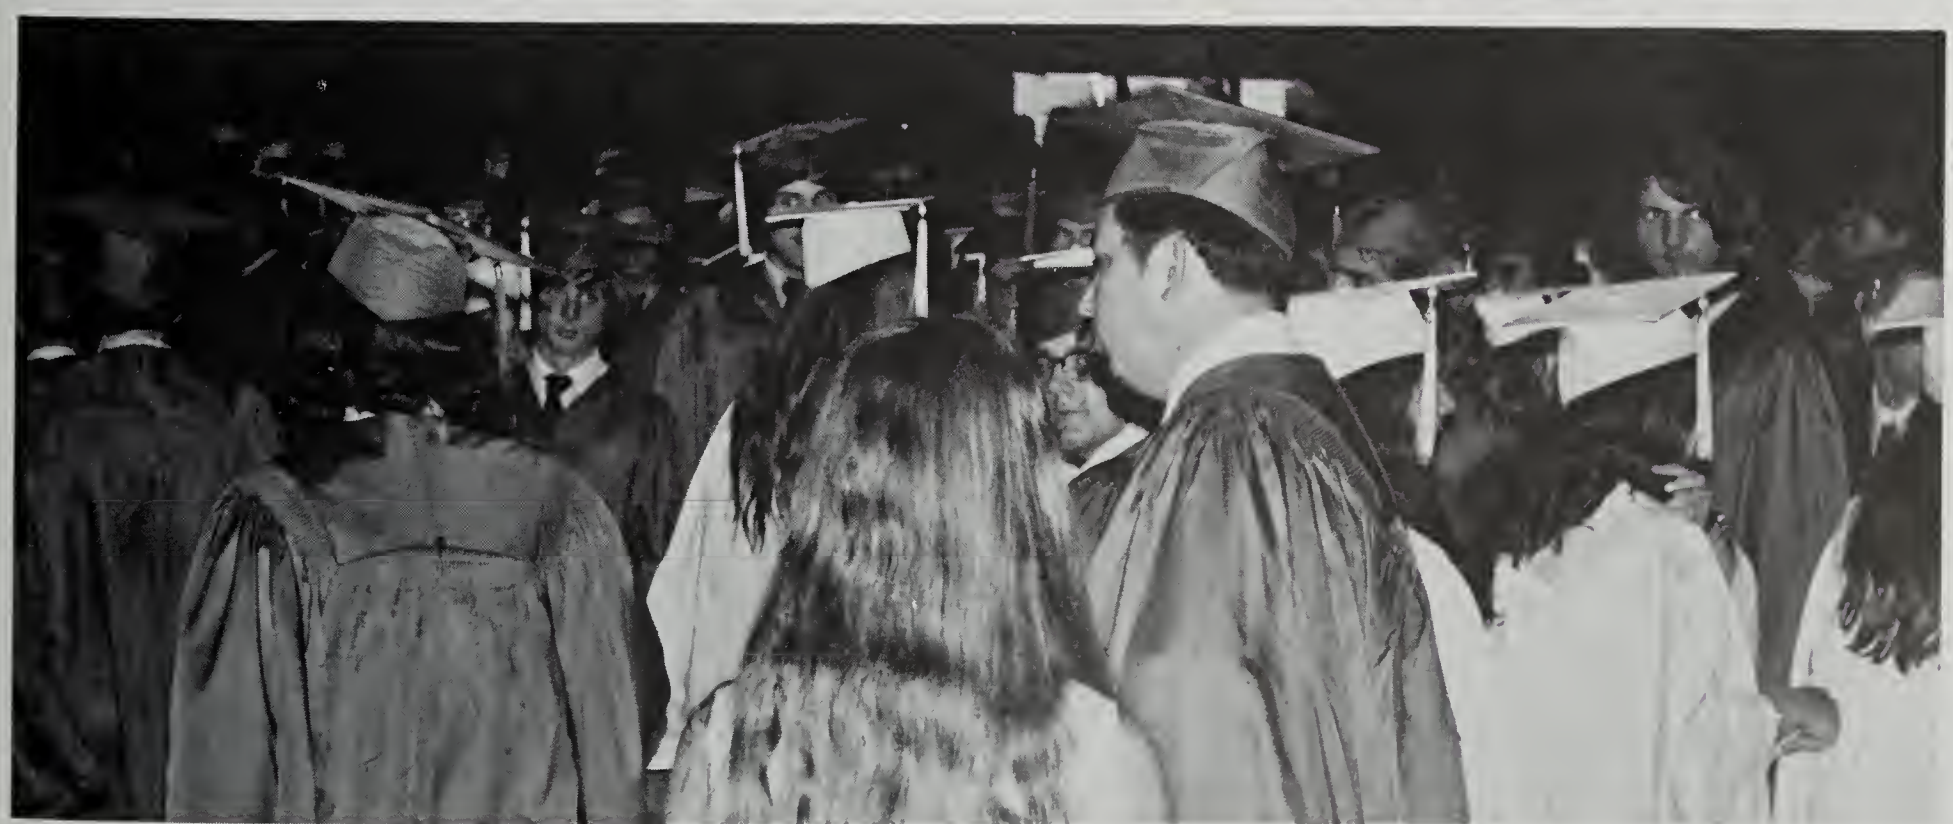


Top: The honor guard falls into step. Middle: Seniors with only a few more yards to go as they march into the stadium. Below: Faculty members, Mr. Gianakaris and Mr. Morton are solemn as they lead the graduates onto the field.

Top: Amidst the stacks of diplomas, Dave Cleary gives the Welcome. Middle left: The moment arrives for Nancy Felix. Middle right: Sherry Farley looks on nervously, as her diploma was misplaced. Right: Pam Allen begins her walk across the platform.

Above: The guys relax as they bide their time. Middle: Graduation . . . happy . . . tense . . . ??? Bottom: A sea of caps and gowns files out.





SENIOR BRAGS

This space is for each Senior to record the activities or events during the past four years which he has participated in and are important to him. Write them now so that in years to come they'll still be memorable.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

"Bonjour . . . My name is Chris Rennert and I come from Dijon, France." That's how one of Chris' many speeches might begin. During her one year visit she lives with the Hodges family who worked hard along with the Edison AFS Chapter to make her stay possible. A little known fact is that Chris receives no credit for her studies here, yet while she is learning about our system we are learning more about France in this cultural exchange. Bonne Chance, Chris!

Chris and Smudge seem to get along well together.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

Hit and run on a donkey isn't easy . . . especially when you're hitting for a basketball backboard and traveling on four hoofs. The Keyettes and Key Club played their annual Donkey B-ball game before a crowd of fans. At the end of the fourth quarter, the score was all tied up 6-6. Thus ended a very different night in the Edison Gymnasium.

A large crowd showed up for the big game.

EAGLEMANIA

'73

A new idea struck the Music Dept. and they went all out to present a show-y, piethrowing, foot-tapping performance. Out came the German Band, the Jazz Band, and pieces of the Marching Band. On came Drill Team members, Majorettes, the Symphonic Choir, the Girls' Ensemble, and others, who paraded down aisles and onto the stage to make this a musical extravaganza never before witnessed at Edison. This could be the start of something big.

TALENT SHOW

Hit the lights . . . start the show! Sponsored by the Senior Class, the finest of Edison's many talented persons swept the stage. A variety of acts kept the show on the road and exposed some unknown talent.

Top: The emcees, Buzzy McClain and Bob Connolly. Middle: Star baton-twirler, Belinda Dolinger. The dueling banjo players. Left: Joel Cowan freaks out in his imitation number. Bottom: An outstanding band, Bob Dewalt, Keith Gilbert, Richard Stone, and Jeff Genzler, plays its last performance as a group.

SP—RING FLING

The first of its kind at Edison—a dance to celebrate the long awaited arrival of Junior Class rings. The entire school was invited and for those who attended an enjoyable evening was spent.

Below: Everyone enjoys a slow dance. Bottom: Couples gather round the punch bowl when the action on the dance floor gets hot.

RACE RELATIONS

The Race Relations Club, was organized very informally. During December, the club was entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner. The club held a Christmas party which included an exchange of gifts characteristic of ethnic backrounds, decorated the Christmas Race Tree and held a bake sale. The club also held a Valentine Party. Members of the club participated in games and panel discussions pertaining to human relations. Our common goal is to understand other people, so that we can learn to work, play and live together in this troubled world.

ERUDITE

The Erudite is a publication by and for students which seeks to promote creativity in various literary genres and the graphic arts through bi-annual publications. A collection of literature and a poster were distributed at mid-year and in the spring.

Sponsors: Mr. Wisniewski, Mrs. Kulesher.

E. Huck, A. Richardson, J. Ross.

The It's Academic team meets once a week to practice for annual chances at the TV show. Three people are selected from about fifteen that come regularly. Practice runs from March thru September with the TV show in the fall. Mrs. George is the new sponsor this spring taking over for Mr. Johnson.

Row One: B. Hawver, B. DeVries, T. Tomaska, C. Baird, C. Hoffman; Row Two: Mrs. George, sponsor, R. Rossman, S. Colenda, S. Binari, D. Cash, M. Wroth, A. Trigger; Row Three: D. Vereen.

DEBATE TEAM

Though people think debators are studious, hardworking and serious, we have done such unusual things as putting forks under doors, midnight strolls in our snuggies, losing our suitcases on the highway and in hotel rooms, annoying parking lot attendents, and being discovered in the wrong restroom, but overall, crushing the weak was the high point of our careers.

FORENSICS TEAM

Row One: N. Puckett, P. Haywood, L. Ray; Row Two: Mr. Welshans, Spon., A. Ricci, J. Smith, L. Larsen, P. Ashooh, P. O'Boyle.

District winners:
Jan Smith—Girl's Poetry
Peter Ashooh—Boy's Prose
Liz Hart—Girl's Prose
Patti Haywood—Spelling
Patty O'Boyle—Girl's Oratory
Regional winner:
Jan Smith—Girl's Poetry.

PERILS of the M.C.

They took away our concessions
And left us in the hole,
We had to come up with something
To mend our broken souls.

With money to buy equipment
The girls could surely win,
Cause we could use the extras
To mend our souls again.

We came up with an idea
To help us out of this spot,
We could sell nice sweaters
And come out on the top.

To our dismay, after endless begging
We were turned down
And every one of us frowned.
But we came back with a bound
With a new idea we found ...

A coat check
Was put on deck and approved.
O Happy Day!

Ten cents a coat sure isn't much
But we get to see the games
And now the girls can thank us
In the Monogram Coat-Check Hall of Fame.

What was 1972-1973? The world revolved around Edison HS. just outside of the Nation's Capital. George Allen and the Redskins took us to the Super Bowl, millions of Americans watched the Inauguration of Nixon and Agnew, the troops were withdrawn from Vietnam, P.O.W.'s were released, the draft ended, the dollar was devalued, inflation continued as did Phases three and four, planes were hijacked, three dissatisfied Indians took to the warpath at Wounded Knee, pollution, the population explosion, and Watergate were problems left on the Earth as astronauts walked and lived on the Moon. Protest, pride, power, and even apathy were signs of the time. Another year gone by. 180 days passed. Bells ring. Lockers slam. "School's out for summer!"

You can't control the length of your life—but you can control its width and depth. You can't control the contour of your face—but you can control its expression. You can't control the weather—but you can control the atmosphere of your mind. Why worry about things you can't control when you can keep yourself busy controlling the things that depend on you.

The purpose of a yearbook is a memory book. The success or foibles of a book will not be fully realized until five or ten years from now. Then we'll wonder what made the '72-'73 school year different from all the rest—or is there a difference in each school year? What makes the times different—the people—and each person holds a different opinion of the school. It is difficult to express with words or capture in pictures every feeling.

Some will note the absence of color in this book but color is expensive and due to financial difficulties beyond our control we could not include it. We hope that black and white photographs are just as meaningful.

Enjoy the 1973 Talon and Good Luck to the students, faculty, administration, and graduates.

The Talon Staff

The '73 Talon Staff wishes to specially acknowledge the following people:

Mr. Tom Young of Paragon Press—"Keep the faith!"

Mr. George Deal and Mr. Robert Nichols of LaMont Studios—for excellent, speedy service and cheerful help.

Mrs. Susan Kulesher and Mr. Willis Clark for their aid and support in the publications Drive.

Mr. Bob Wisniewski for technical advice and use of the darkroom.

Mr. Brian Sarsfield for his total dedication to The Book and the long hours of the summer of '73.

Mr. Don Seemuller for his unselfish photographic contribution to the Talon.

Walt Skirven—the king of the advertising solicitors.

Pam Mathias, Elaine Feagans, Barbara Mickey, and Bill McKay—for many long typesheets.

Cindy—who made it possible!
